Jonathan's Landing Specialty Cocktails

John Daly

The iconic mix of lemonade and iced tea is always a good choice, even if you're nowhere near a golf course. The best part: add peachtree and vodka!

Sex In The Sandtrap

Who really wants to go to the beach anyway. Cranberry juice, Peach Schnapps, Pineapple Juice, Vodka

The Pin

This sweet libation packs a cinnamon kick and is the perfect offering to the Golf Gods to get those shots closer to the cup. Fireball, whipped vodka, Frangelico and cranberry juice.

The Green

If you wanted to taste the feeling of getting on in 2 on a par 5, this mixture of vodka, blue curacao and pineapple juice would be that experience.

Classic Concoctions

Amaretto Sour

Amaretto, and sours mix, pour over ice garnished with cherry and lemon.

Azalea

Even if you never set foot on Augusta National's hallowed grounds, you can drink like you're there with an Azalea cocktail: vodka, lemonade, pineapple juice, a squeeze of lime and a splash of grenadine.

Bay Breeze

Fruit juices and vodka are all we mix for this beachy cocktail. Now all you need is a tropical island! Vodka, Cranberry juice and pineapple juice.

Bloody Mary

Usually served at breakfast or brunch, the Bloody Mary is easy to customize depending on how strong you like your drinks and how much spice you can handle.

Cape Cod

Vodka and Cranberry! Delicious!

Hurricane

The hurricane is a sweet drink that is one of many popular drinks served in New Orleans. Rum, pineapple juice, orange juice, and grenadine served on the rocks. Beads not included.

Rum -n- Coke

Kinda says it all. Your choice of rum mixed with coke served with a fresh lime wedge.

Screwdriver

Orange juice and your choice of vodka.
