Golfers, Guests, Clients, Passholders and Longtime Friends of Jonathan's Landing:

Forewinds Hospitality is the golf course and special events management company that has managed Jonathan's Landing since April 15, 2019. Last week, it was announced that Forewinds Hospitality has not been selected via Delaware's Department of Natural Resources & Environmental Control (DNREC) bid process to operate Deerfield and Garrisons Lake Golf Club for the next term, beginning on January 1, 2024.

Even though DNREC does not have any ownership/management relationship with Jonathan's Landing, this pending change will have some repercussions at Jonathan's Landing for which we are actively preparing. There is no need for any concern or alarm. For five seasons, the hard work of the Forewinds team and the unprecedented financial commitment from the Beiser Family Trust that owns Jonathan's Landing have led an amazing turnaround at Jonathan's. With the addition of other very talented managers and the continued leadership of General Manager Chad Craft, PGA, there is no reason to believe that this renaissance will not continue. While Forewinds Hospitality's involvement with Jonathan's Landing in its current form will be coming to an end at the conclusion of this term (12/31/23), plans are currently being crafted for whatever services might be required for 2024 and beyond. Operationally, the golf/dining/event functionality as directed by our current managers and staff will continue uninterrupted.

I know that you are in extraordinarily capable hands with Chad Craft, PGA, as the property's leader. Mike Cocino, Alexis Parker and our other managers have already proven to be game changers for the health of the business and our mission of hospitality at Jonathan's. This core, complemented by our other full-time and seasonal staff, will ensure the positive trajectory of the last five seasons continues.

We will update you via our website, email and social media platforms as additional details become available. Annual golf passes and special event sales continue uninterrupted, and the interest in both – added to the record year the golf course has enjoyed – has remained strong. We are already seeing that 2024 is going to be a great year for the golfers and guests at Jonathan's Landing.

Sincerely,

Jeff
